Book Summary and E-Book Back Cover

“With the recommendations of the Higher Education Funding Commission, Georgia joins a growing number of states in sending a strong message to institutions, students and taxpayers alike that we will begin to measure our return on investment for the funds spent on public colleges and universities in terms of student access, progress and success.” –Georgia Governor Nathan Deal

Where are you in your educational journey? Maybe you’re planning on going to college and excited and nervous about all the possibilities and challenges in your future. Maybe you’re not sure if college is for you. Or maybe, like John Isom when his college story began, you have been putting off higher education for years, and now you’re facing your fears and have no idea how to even get started tackling your courses.

In this book, you’ll read the inspiring story of how John’s five-year college journey changed his life, as well as advice and testimonies from college students of all ages and backgrounds. You’ll find practical tips for studying and keeping yourself on track as well as spiritual strengthening to lift you up when you feel the road ahead is too difficult. Most of all, this book will make you realize that no matter what obstacles lie in your way, U-CAN achieve amazing things and use your personal victory to pave the way for others.

2nd Book To Be Released In Soft and Hard Back Date TBD, Below will be the added back Cover

-- This book (a tool U-Can! use) is designed to increase Valdosta State University enrollment to 14,000 by fall semester 2015—and keep it high in the years beyond. Its philosophy is simple:

Live a U-CAN! Life to Show Others They Can!

U- You

C- Capture your message, moments, memories

A- Attack every mission (14,000 Blazers by 2015) with your best effort

N- Never be defeated
